

BASIC INFORMATION AND INSTRUCTIONS TO INTERNATIONAL APPLICANTS

The admission process for international applicants is the same as it is for domestic ones, except for the language requirements. All graduate programs at UPF require a reasonable knowledge of Portuguese or Spanish. However, each program has its own language requirements and policies.

The immigration process is addressed after a formal offer of admission is provided by the admitting program.

Financial aid for international students is limited. Applicants are urged to seek funding from sources other than UPF, which might include private and governmental agencies.
